November 2017

I am so happy to announce that Under the Mountain, the third and final volume of the Into the Outside trilogy comes out November 8th. The paperback and Kindle editions are available on Amazon and wherever books are sold. Pre-order your Kindle copy at Amazon.com. Production will begin on the audio book in February. Meanwhile, book 2, Into the Yellow Zone is now available on Audible.com. See details below.

I'm concentrating on my next novel – part sci-fi, part disaster novel, set in Antarctica, Boston and Miami, the story takes place in the near future and stars a snarky college student, her best friend, and her scientist mother. More later!

AUDIOBOOK Recommendation

All the Birds in the Sky*, by Charlie Jane Anders

Sci-Fi: Contemporary

Overall * Performance * Story ****

This end-of-the-world battle between magic and science which revolves around childhood friends Patricia (the witch) and Laurence (the techno-start up wiz) is a humorous and, at times, heart-breaking exploration of growing up extraordinary in a world filled with cruelty, scientific ingenuity, and magic. Childhood friends Patricia Delfine and Laurence Armstead didn't expect to see each other again after parting ways under mysterious circumstances in middle school. After all, the development of magical powers and the invention of a two-second time machine could hardly fail to alarm one's peers and families. But now they're both adults, living in the hipster mecca San Francisco, and the planet is falling apart around them.

Entertainment Weekly's 27 Female Authors Who Rule Sci-Fi and Fantasy Right Now and winner of the 2016 Nebula Award for Best Novel. Alyssa Bresnahan does a fabulous job narrating. She is one of those narrators that doesn't try to create a different voice for each person, but rather a different "feel" and it works perfectly.
