

The Lynda Engler Newsletter

September 2016

Hi folks! The cooler days of this past Labor Day weekend in North Carolina may be signs that autumn will arrive soon. Meanwhile, Fall semester is in swing and I'm torturing myself with two classes, plus starting work on my graduate thesis, so it will be a busy time for me until early December. Not sure how much writing I will get to (that is not about Public Relations at least!) but I've got a few cool things happening this month.

SCBWI * CAROLINAS
Covering North & South Carolina

The Carolina's chapter Society for Children's Book Writers and Illustrator's annual conference in Charlotte, NC is coming up at the end of the month. I always loved the workshops and sessions at the New England conference, and I look forward to meeting a whole new group of authors, agents and publishers in my new regional chapter.

INTO THE OUTSIDE – Audio book available

Produced by Carlo Libertini of Boston, MA, this 6 hour unabridged narration of the novel is now available on Audible for subscribers. Check it out on Audible.com.

SEQUEL UPDATE – Into the Yellow Zone

The manuscript has gone out to three professional reviewers and with any luck, I will be able to include some reviews on the back cover. Release date is set for December 2016.

If you would like to become a beta-reader for the final book in the trilogy – Under the Mountain – email me at author@lyndaengler.com

STORY PEAK WRITING CONTEST – Into the Yellow Zone

I submitted the manuscript to this contest to try for a major publishing house contract, because... why not? I need 100 readers by October 2nd to help me get a publishing deal! If you would like to read it and review, click 'GET FREE COPY' on the website below.

Before Arthur became the legendary King of Britain, before the Round Table, before Lancelot and Guinevere...

It's 2200 BC, the Bronze Age, and the Emerald Isle is under attack by demons. Danu, the Earth Mother, reaches 2700 years into the future and transports young Arthur of the Britons to her. Someday Arthur will unite all of England and be king, but right now he is only 12. Does he have the knowledge and power needed to save her people?

THE FORGOTTEN ISLE – My Middle Grade fantasy novel had a bit of a resurgence last week after a 5-day Kindle special propelled it into the top 5 Children's Fantasy books. Whoot!
